Recommends Central Pumping Plants

Dave Adams of Dragoon, one of the popular Cochise county pioneers, is a county seat visitor today on court business, Mr. Adams has recently returned from an extended visit to the south and east and insperted the workings of some of the large pumping plants for irigation purposes. The installation of a central power plant to economically pump water for rrigation he believes would solve the situation in the big Sulphur Spring Valley. Mr. Adams is a successfu cattleman who is a thorough booster for Cochise county.

Quail Hunt Is Somewhat Different

Ed James, the genial Democratic candidate for mayor, sesterday had a hunting experience which was quite a diversion from the usual quiet , clitical hunt such as is generally supposed to be part of a municipal campaign. Lured by the reports of All went merry un'il the hunters got outside the municipal limits when Ed promptly lost himself. He strayed away from the base of supplies, which also served as commissary wagon, and his enthusiastic quest for quail was so pronounced that he walked some ten miles, the direction being opposite to itors from El Paso the guests of her | the route taken by the commissary in parents Chief of Police Bravin and charge of Capt. Marra. A futile hunt on the part of the captain for a part of the lost command caused some upeasiness but the lost hunter after call ing at the Haberetack ranch and finding to his dismay that it was outside the four city wards, headed back to town. He arrived about 7 o'clock with enough quail to make a good "mulligen" and amply proving his staying qualities, but not anxious to repeat his experience.

The City Campaign is Moving Quietly

In the city campaign everything is moving along serenely, without a First Arizona cloud to darken the horizon nor ripple to disturb the placid surface of fornia points and while engaged in the political waters in Tombetone looking after business interests still The candidates of both parties are fondly thinks of Tombetone, always working quietly, and altogether the considering the historic city his home campaign has the appearance of a - a pardonable pride. Mr. Gage will friendly rivalry rather than a determined contest for office. As the rich plums hung up in the city hall conemoluments attached is the glory and struggle for their possession is not at Oroville, California.
